DETAILED ACTION

Election and Restrictions

Claims 4 and 5 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention and species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the election filed on 5/17/04.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 1, there is an inconsistency between the language in the preamble and certain portions in the body of the claims, thereby making the scope of the claims unclear. The preamble clearly indicated that the subcombination of a "retainer assembly" is being claimed with the functional recitation of the "retainer assembly" being used "for retaining at least one inner pole of an extensible and retractable pole assembly within an outer pole of the extensible and retractable pole assembly when the at least one inner pole is retracted within the outer pole". However, the body of the claim positively recites "the outer pole", e.g., "a third section positioned around the outer pole which is fastened to the second portions of the first and second sections" (lines 9-10), which indicates the claims as being drawn to a combination of the "retainer assembly" and the "outer pole". Therefore, applicant must clarify what the claims are intended to be drawn to, i.e., either the "retainer assembly" alone or in combination with the "outer pole", and present the claims with the language which is consistent with the invention. For purposes of examination, the examiner has considered the assembly in combination with an outer pole.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wise et al., 4,976,371 (see marked-up attachment), in view of Coulter et al., 3,893,725.

Regarding claim 1, Wise et al. disclose, in Figures 1 and 2, a retainer assembly comprising a first section A1, a second section A4, a third section 24, and an outer pole 12. The first section A1 has a first portion A2 and a second portion 30. The second section A4 has a first portion A5 and a second portion 36. The third section 24 is positioned around the outer pole 12 which is fastened to the second portion 30 of the first section A1 and the second portion 36 of the second section A4.

However, Wise et al., fail to disclose the first portion A2 of the first section A1 and the first portion A5 of the second section A4 able of fastening to one another across an open end of the outer pole to retain at least one inner pole within the outer pole. Coulter et al. teach a first portion 3A of a first section 1A and a first portion 3B of the second section 1B able of fastening to one another across an open end of an outer pole 10 to unfasten the retainer assembly from an open end of the outer pole instead from a side as taught by Wise et al. Therefore, as taught by Coulter et al., it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Wise et al. to be able to fasten the first portion of the first section with that of the first portion of the second section across an open end of the outer pole versus from the side of the outer pole.

Regarding claim 2, the first section A1, the second section A4, and the third section 24 are at least partially formed of hook and loop fastener material.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 3 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

regarding claim 3, the prior art of record does not disclose or suggest a ring section connected to an open end of an outer pole and having a pair of slots provided therethrough.
